Preface

Welcome to the New 2014 South Dakota Fine Arts Standards. Research has shown that the arts are an essential part of educating the whole child. The arts are integral to taking a child and turning him or her into a happy, successful, and well-adjusted adult.

The South Dakota Fine Arts Standards identify the fundamental elements necessary for South Dakota's students to succeed and excel in the arts and in life outside of the classroom. The update to the fine arts standards reflects the ever-changing nature of education and the continually developing understanding of how students learn. As expectations are raised for students, so must schools make improvements to Fine Arts education programs to meet students' needs. These standards address this very issue.

The South Dakota Fine Arts Standards are built on a balance between the existing structure of schools and an attainable vision of what that content should be included. Standards are listed grade-by-grade, understanding that some schools do not provide instruction in some art forms in certain grades within that span. Because students' selection of arts courses can occur at any grade, the high school standards are presented in two levels of proficiency rather than by grade. The two levels—Proficient and Advanced—are flexible enough to accommodate varying degrees of achievement by students during their high school years. Each specific Fine Arts content area contains specific vocabulary. It is important to note that this does not represent vocabulary taught to students during those courses, rather, it is vocabulary required for the teacher to be able to understand the essence of the standards.

The South Dakota Fine Arts Standards broadly document and collectively articulate what students should know and be able to do to become competent in the arts. Central to this document are four overarching Artistic Processes present in all five subject areas: Music, Theater, Media Arts, Visual Arts, and Dance. The National Council for Core Arts Standards determined that these four Artistic Processes are integral to all art instruction. These processes are Creating, Performing, Responding, and Connecting. Creating refers to the conceiving and developing of new artistic ideas and work. Performing, which is also referred to as presenting and producing, depending on the specific content area, refers to the realization of artistic work through interpretation and presentation. Responding refers to the understanding and evaluating of how arts convey meaning. Connecting refers to the relating of artistic ideas and work with personal meaning and external context.

Artistic Process Overview

Artistic Process: Creating - Conceiving and developing new artistic ideas and works.

Anchor Standard 1: K-12.Cr.1 Generate and conceptualize artistic ideas and works

Anchor Standard 2: K-12.Cr.2 Organize and develop artistic ideas and works

Anchor Standard 3: K-12.Cr.3 Refine and complete artistic works

Artistic Process: Performing- Realizing artistic ideas and work through interpretation and presentation.

Anchor Standard 4: K-12.Pr.4 Analyze, interpret, and select artistic works for presentation

Anchor Standard 5: K-12.Pr.5 Develop and refine artistic works for presentation

Anchor Standard 6: K-12.Pr.6 Convey meaning through the presentation of artistic works

Artistic Process: Responding - Understanding and evaluating how artistic works convey meaning.

Anchor Standard 7: K-12.Re.7 Identify and analyze artistic works

Anchor Standard 8: K-12.Re.8 Interpret intent and meaning in artistic works

Anchor Standard 9: K-12.Re.9 Apply criteria to evaluate artistic works

Artistic Process: Connecting - Relating artistic ideas and work with personal meaning and external context.

Anchor Standard 10: K-12.Cn.10 Synthesize and relate knowledge and personal experiences to make artistic works

Anchor Standard 11: K-12.Cn.11 Relate artistic ideas and works with societal, historical, cultural, and personal context to deepen understanding

- Linda Tidball - K-12 Art Educator, Edgemont School District
- Jean Winker - 7-12 Band & Vocal Music Educator, Howard School District

Additional Resources

The revision process asked stakeholders throughout South Dakota to serve on a committee to review and revise the Fine Arts Standards. The committee represented many decades of South Dakota instructional art experience. The committee employed input from students, parents and teachers, and from communities throughout South Dakota. The final document is the culmination of research from the review of published standards from other states, numerous professional publications, and the NCCAS 2014 Fine Arts Standards.

The South Dakota Fine Arts Revision workgroups used National Standards to inform the creation of the newest South Dakota Standards. Throughout this process the committee evaluated many forms of Arts Standards found around the globe and across the country. The committee members evaluated the strengths of the previous South Dakota Fine Arts Standards document. The committee also evaluated and employed information and resources from these highly respected sources:

Americans for the Arts

American Alliance for Theatre and Education (AATE)

Educational Theatre Association (EdTA)

The College Board

National Association for Music Education (formerly MENC)

National Art Education Association (NAEA)

National Dance Education Organization (NDEO)

Dance

Dance: An Operational Definition

Dance is a kinesthetic art form where ideas and meanings are translated into movement. Dance uses movement to convey thoughts, share stories, and show imagination. Like other arts disciplines, dance is a language with specific contextual interpretations.

Overview: South Dakota K-12 Dance Standards

Dance is an integral part of humanity and can be used to express the values, cultures, and ideas of a society using non-verbal communication. The South Dakota State Standards in Dance have been adjusted to allow student's opportunities to achieve dance literacy and incorporate dance ideas and concepts into other fine arts disciplines. Teaching dance gives students a grounded understanding of the history of cultures, kinesthetic awareness, fitness techniques, and allows learning to happen through multiple avenues.

These standards have been written using multiple resources including the NCCAS National Dance Standards, National Dance Education Organization, fine arts educators from multiple disciplines, standards from other states, and current brain research.

K.DA.Pr.4.1 Make still and moving body shapes that show lines (for example, straight, bent, and curved), changes levels, and vary in size (large/small). Join with others to make a circle formation and work with others to change its dimensions.	1.DA.Pr.4.1 Demonstrate locomotor and non-locomotor movements that change body shapes, levels, and facings. Move in straight, curved, and zig-zagged pathways. Find and return to place in space. Move with others to form straight lines and circles.	2.DA.Pr.4.1 Demonstrate clear directionality and intent when performing locomotor and non-locomotor movements that change body shapes, facings, and pathways in space. Identify symmetrical and asymmetrical body shapes. Differentiate between circling and turning as two separate ways of continuous directional change.	3.DA.Pr.4.1 Judge spaces as distance traveled and use space three-dimensionally. Demonstrate shapes with positive and negative space. Perform movement sequences in and through space with intentionality and focus.	4.DA.Pr.4.1 Make static and dynamic shapes with positive and negative space. Perform elevated shapes (jump shapes) with soft landings and movement sequences alone and with others, establishing relationships with other dancers through focus of eyes.	5.DA.Pr.4.1 Integrate static and dynamic shapes and floor and air pathways into dance sequences. Establish relationships with other dancers through focus of eyes and other body parts. Convert inward focus to outward focus for projecting out to far space.	6-8.DA.Pr.4.1 Refine partner and ensemble skills in the ability to judge distance and spatial design. Expand movement vocabulary of floor and air pattern designs. Sculpt the body in space and design body shapes in relation to other dancers, objects, and environment. Incorporate and modify body designs from different dance genres and styles for the purpose of expanding movement vocabulary. Including differently designed shapes and movements for interest and contrast. Maintain focus with partner or group in near or far space. Use focus of eyes during complex floor and air patterns or direct and indirect pathways.	HSp.DA.Pr.4.1 Develop and expand partner and ensemble skills that enable contrasting level changes through lifts, balances, or other means while maintaining a sense of spatial design and relationship. Dance alone and with others with spatial intention. Use space intentionally during phrases and through transitions between phrases. Establish and break relationships with others as appropriate to the choreography. Execute complex floor and air sequences with others while maintaining relationships through focus and intentionality.	HSa.DA.Pr.4.1 Modulate and use the broadest range of movement in space for artistic and expressive clarity. Use inward and outward focus to clarify movement and intent. Establish and break relationships with other dancers and audience as appropriate to the dance.
K.DA.Pr.4.2 Demonstrate tempo contrasts with movements that match to tempo of sound stimuli.	1.DA.Pr.4.2 Relate quick, moderate and slow movements to duration in time. Recognize steady beat and move to varying tempi of steady beat.	2.DA.Pr.4.2 Identify the length of time a move or phrase takes (for example, whether it is long or short). Identify and move on the downbeat in duple and triple meter. Correlate metric phrasing with movement phrasing.	3.DA.Pr.4.2 Fulfill specified duration of time with improvised locomotor and non-locomotor movements. Differentiate between "in time" and "out of time" to music. Perform movements that are the same or of a different time orientation to accompaniment. Use metric and kinesthetic phrasing.	4.DA.Pr.4.2 Accompany other dancers using a variety of percussive instruments and sounds. Respond in movement to even and uneven rhythms. Recognize and respond to tempo changes as they occur in dance and music.	5.DA.Pr.4.2 Dance to a variety of rhythms generated from internal and external sources. Perform movement phrases that show the ability to respond to changes in time.	6-8.DA.Pr.4.2 Vary and analyze durational approach in dance phrasing by using timing accents and variations within a phrase to add interest kinesthetically, rhythmically, and visually. Accurately use accented and unaccented beats in 3/4 and 4/4 meter. Use different tempi in different body parts at the same time.	HSp.DA.Pr.4.2 Use syncopation and accent movements related to different tempi. Perform dance studies and compositions that use time and tempo in unpredictable ways. Take rhythmic cues from different aspects of accompaniment. Use internal rhythms and kinetics as phrasing tools. Dance "in the moment." Integrate breath phrasing with metric and kinesthetic phrasing.	HSa.DA.Pr.4.2 Modulate time factors for artistic interest and expressive acuity. Demonstrate time complexity in phrasing with and without musical accompaniment. Use multiple and complex rhythms (for example, contrapuntal and/or polyrhythmic) at the same time. Work with and against rhythm of accompaniment or sound environments.

K.DA.Pr.4.3 Identify and apply different characteristics to movements (for example, slow, smooth, or wavy).	1.DA.Pr.4.3 Demonstrate movement characteristics along with movement vocabulary (for example, use adverbs and adjectives that apply to movement such as a bouncy leap, a floppy fall, a jolly jump, and joyful spin).	2.DA.Pr.4.3 Select and apply appropriate characteristics to movements (for example, selecting specific adverbs and adjectives to movements). Demonstrate kinesthetic awareness while dancing the movement characteristics.	3.DA.Pr.4.3 Fulfill specified duration of time with improvised locomotor and non-locomotor movements. Differentiate between "in time" and "out of time" to music. Perform movements that are the same or of a different time orientation to accompaniment. Use metric and kinesthetic phrasing.	4.DA.Pr.4.3 Analyze movements and phrases for use of energy and dynamic changes and use adverbs and adjectives to describe them. Based on the analysis, refine the phrases by incorporating a range of movement characteristics.	5.DA.Pr.4.3 Contrast bound and free-flowing movements. Motivate movement from both central initiation (torso) and peripheral initiation (distal) and analyze the relationship between initiation and energy.	6-8.DA.Pr.4.3 Use the internal body force created by varying tensions within one's musculature for movement initiation and dynamic expression. Compare and contrast movement characteristics from a variety of dance genres or styles. Direct energy and dynamics in such a way that movement is textured. Incorporate energy and dynamics to technique exercises and dance performance. Use energy and dynamics to enhance and project movements.	HSp.DA.Pr.4.3 Connect energy and dynamics to movements by applying them in and through all parts of the body. Vary energy and dynamics over the length of a phrase and transition smoothly out of the phrase and into the next phrase. Develop total body awareness so that movement phrases demonstrate variances of energy and dynamics.	HSa.DA.Pr.4.3 Modulate dynamics to clearly express intent while performing dance phrases and choreography. Perform movement sequences expressively using a broad dynamic range and employ dynamic skills for establishing relationships with other dancers and projecting to the audience.

Dance Glossary

Artistic expression: The manifestations of artistic intent through dance, drama music, poetry, fiction, painting, sculpture or other artistic media. In dance, this involves the dance and the dancers within a context.

Capstone project: A culminating performance-based assessment that determines what 12th graders should know and be able to do in various educational disciplines; usually based on research and the development of a major product or project that is an extension of the research.

Dance study: A short dance that is comprised of several dance phrases based on an artistic idea

Elements of dance: The key components of movement; movement of the body using space, time, and energy; often referred to as the elements of movement; see Elements of Dance Organizer by Perpich Center for Arts Education (used with permission)

Movement characteristics: qualities, elements, or dynamics that describe or define a movement

Dance movement principles: Fundamentals related to the craft and skill with which dance movement is performed (for example, the use of dynamic alignment, breath support, core support, rotation, initiation and sequencing, and weight shift)

Locomotor: Movement that travels from one location to another or in a pathway through space (for example, in Pre-K, walk, run, tip-toe, slither, roll, crawl, jump, march, gallop; in Kindergarten, the addition of prance, hop, skip, slide, leap)

Production elements: Aspects of performance that produce theatrical effects (for example, costumes, make up, sound, lighting, props)

Production terminology: Words commonly used to refer to the stage, performance setting, or theatrical aspects of dance presentation

Non-locomotor: Movement that remains in place; movement that does not travel from one location to another or in a pathway through space for example, in PreK, bend, twist, turn, open, close; in Kindergarten, swing, sway, spin, reach, pull

Media Arts

Media Arts: An Operational Definition

According to the National Core Arts Standards for Media Arts, Media Arts is a unique medium of artistic expression that can amplify and integrate traditional art forms by incorporating the technological advances of the contemporary world with emerging skill sets available to students and teachers. Media Arts students cultivate both artistic abilities and a technological aptitude. The media artist utilizes a fundamental understanding of the mediums of analog and digital media in order to integrate digital technologies with traditional forms of artistic expression.

Overview: South Dakota K-12 Media Arts Standards

Media arts standards are intended to address the diverse forms and categories of media arts, including: imaging, sound, moving image, virtual and interactive. Media arts standards do not dictate what or how to teach, but define age-appropriate outcomes for students, towards the achievement of Enduring Understandings and Artistic Literacy. They are therefore quite generalized, not specifying particular technologies or techniques, and containing very few examples of terminology and activities. The standards allow for a great diversity of instruction, methodology and circumstance for our constantly changing technological advances. They are adaptive to the wide range of conditions present in South Dakota schools.

The 2014 National Core Arts Standards and South Dakota State Fine Arts Standards embrace Media Arts as a stand-alone art form. As resourced by the National Coalition for Core Arts Standards, the South Dakota Fine Arts Standards committee recognizes the growing interest in and diversity of Media Arts. As a new mode of expression within public education, these standards respond to the need for performance standards in the Media Arts.

Principles of design: The use and arrangement of the building blocks of visual art including pattern, rhythm/movement, proportion/scale, balance, unity, and emphasis

MUSIC

Music: An Operational Definition

A student's music education experience may include, but is not limited to: general music, choir, band, orchestra, jazz ensemble, guitar, percussion ensemble, music theory, Advanced Placement (AP) Music Theory, technology, composition, song writing, piano lab/music keyboards, music history, marching band, drum line, multi-cultural music, ethnic, opera, show choir, musical theatre, world drumming, recording studio, etc.

Overview: South Dakota K-12 Music Education Standards

Following NCCAS's lead, music stakeholders from across South Dakota reviewed and revised South Dakota's Music Standards using the newly released NCCAS standards as a model. The Music Standards include student outcomes (what students should know and be able to do) in each grade from pre-kindergarten through grades 8, and for two levels in high school.

While the standards identify what knowledge and skills students should know and be able to do, they leave precisely how this is to be accomplished to teachers and other local specialists who formulate, deliver, and evaluate criteria. The South Dakota Music Standards are designed to provide a framework for curriculum, instruction, and assessment practices.

The goal of music education is to develop musically literate individuals who have the knowledge, skills, and confidence to enjoy a lifetime of music participation/enjoyment. A musically literate individual also exhibits responsible personal and social behaviors and respects themselves, others, and their environment.

Music Glossary

Analog tools: Category of musical instruments and tools that are non-digital (i.e., do not transfer sound in or convert sound into binary code), such as acoustic instruments, microphones, monitors, and speakers.

Bordun: Accompaniment created by sounding two tones, five notes apart, continuously throughout a composition; can be performed in varying ways, such as simultaneously or alternating

Compositional devices: Tools used by a composer or arranger to create or organize a composition or arrangement, such as tonality, sequence, repetition, instrumentation, orchestration, harmonic/melodic structure, style, and form

Compositional procedures: Techniques that a composer initiates and continues in pieces to develop musical ideas, such as fragmentation, imitation, sequencing, variation, aggregate completion, registral saturation, contour inversion of gestures, and rhythmic phrasing

Compositional techniques: Approaches a composer uses to manipulate and refine the elements to convey meaning and intent in a composition, such as tension-release, augmentation-diminution, sound-silence, motion-stasis, in addition to compositional devices

Context: Environment that surrounds music, influences understanding, provides meaning, and connects to an event or occurrence

Context, cultural: Values, beliefs, and traditions of a group of people that influence musical meaning and inform culturally authentic musical practice

Context, historical: Conditions of the time and place in which music was created or performed that provide meaning and influence the musical experience

Context, personal: Unique experiences and relationships that surround a single person and are influenced by personal life, family, habits, interest, and preferences

Context, social environment: Surrounding something or someone's creation or intended audience that reflects and influences how people use and interpret the musical experience

Culturally authentic performance: Presentation that reflects practices and interpretation representative of the style and traditions of a culture

Demonstrate: Show musical understanding through observable behavior such as moving, chanting, singing, or playing instruments

Digital environment: Simulated place made or created through the use of one or more computers, sensors, or equipment

Digital notation: A visual image of musical sound created by using computer software applications, intended either as a record of sound heard or imagined, or as a set of visual instructions for performers

Digital resources: Anything published in a format capable of being read by a computer, a web-enabled device, a digital tablet, or smartphone

Digital systems: Platforms that allow interaction and the conversion between and through the audio and digital domains

Digital tools: Category of musical instruments and tools that manipulate sound using binary code, such as electronic keyboards, digital audio interfaces, MIDI, and computer software

Elements of music: Basic characteristics of sound (pitch, rhythm, harmony, dynamics, timbre, texture, form, and style/articulation) that are manipulated to create music

Enduring understanding: Overarching (aka, “big”) ideas that are central to the core of the music discipline and may be transferred to new situations

Essential question: Question that is central to the core of a discipline—in this case, music—and promotes investigation to uncover corresponding enduring understanding(s)

Established criteria: Traits or dimensions for making quality judgments in music of a particular style, genre, cultural context, or historical period that have gained general acceptance and application over time

Expression: Feeling conveyed through music

Expressive aspects: Characteristics that convey feeling in the presentation of musical ideas

Expressive intent: The emotions, thoughts, and ideas that a performer or composer seeks to convey by manipulating the elements of music

Expressive qualities: Qualities such as dynamics, tempo, articulation which--when combined with other elements of music--give a composition its musical identity

Formal design: Large-scale framework for a piece of music in which the constituent parts cohere into a meaningful whole; encompasses both structural and tonal aspects of the piece

Function: Use for which music is created, performed, or experienced, such as dance, social, recreation, music therapy, video games, and advertising

Fundamentals of music theory: Basic elements of music, their subsets, and how they interact

Genre: Category of music characterized by a distinctive style, form, and/or content, such as jazz, march, and country

Guidance: Assistance provided temporarily to enable a student to perform a musical task that would be difficult to perform unaided, best implemented in a manner that helps develop that student’s capacity to eventually perform the task independently

Heterophonic: Musical texture in which slightly different versions of the same melody sound simultaneously

Homophonic: Musical texture in which all parts move in the same rhythm but use different pitches, as in hymns; also, a melody supported by chords

Iconic notation: Representation of sound and its treatment using lines, drawings, pictures

Intent: Meaning or feeling of the music planned and conveyed by a creator or performer

Interpret: Determine and demonstrate music's expressive intent and meaning when responding and performing

Music literacy: Knowledge and understanding required to participate authentically in the discipline of music by independently carrying out the artistic processes of creating, performing, and responding

Musical idea: Idea expressed in music, which can range in length from the smallest meaningful level (motive or short pattern) through a phrase, a section, or an entire piece

Personal context: Unique experiences and relationships that surround a single person and are influenced by personal life, family, habits, interest, and preferences

Personally-developed criteria: Qualities or traits for assessing achievement level developed by students individually

Polyphonic: Musical texture in which two or more melodies sound simultaneously

Purpose: Reason for which music is created, such as, ceremonial, recreational/social, commercial, or generalized artistic expression

Repertoire: Body or set of musical works that can be performed

Respond: Understand and evaluate how the arts convey meaning

Social context: Environment surrounding something or someone's creation or intended audience that reflects and influences how people use and interpret the musical experience

Sonic events: Individual sounds (or sound masses) and silences whose succession forms patterns and contrasting units that are perceived as musical

Sonic experience: Perception and understanding of the sounds and silences of a musical work and their inter-relationships

Standard notation: System for visually representing musical sound that is in widespread use; such systems include traditional music staff notation, tablature notation (primarily for fretted stringed instruments), and lead-sheet notation

Stylistic expression: Interpretation of expressive qualities in a manner that is authentic and appropriate to the genre, historical period, and cultural context of origin

Technical accuracy/ technical skill: Ability to perform with appropriate timbre, intonation, and diction as well as to play or sing the correct pitches and rhythms at a tempo appropriate to the musical work

Vocables: Audible sounds and/or nonsense syllables used by vocalists to convey musical ideas or intent

Theatre Arts

Theatre Arts: An Operational Definition

A student's theatre arts education experience encompasses both the drama process and theatre products. A student's understanding and achievement in theatre is designed to cultivate the whole person while developing reasoning, imagination, intuition, creativity, communication and expression through active participation in, but not limited to, holistic engagement, envisioned worlds, unscripted activities, real and imagined issues, traditional conventions, history, sociology, culture, scripted plays, acting, public performance, stagecraft, and unfettered play. A strong and clear idea of the theatre process, which takes a dramatic or theatrical work from inception to fruition, teaches the importance of follow-through and responsibility. In addition, a theatre arts education teaches the value of proper planning, the presentation of ideas, persuasion, entertainment, design and enrichment. By creating dances, music, theatrical productions and visual works of art, students learn the importance of collaboration, self-discipline, and perseverance in situations where there is no clear standard or approved answer to problems. Theatre arts education builds multiple kinds of literacy and offers unique perspectives on other disciplines which require creative solutions. A theatre arts education empowers the individual to strive for accomplishment that cultivates a possible society which invests in the future of our children, our communities and civilization.

Overview: South Dakota K-12 Theatre Arts Standards

The Theatre Arts Standards, which were approved by the South Dakota State Board of Education in 2015 include student outcomes (what students should know and be able to do) in each grade from pre-kindergarten through 5, a middle school level (6-8), and for two levels in high school (proficient and advanced).

While the standards identify what knowledge and skills students should know and be able to do, they leave precisely how this is to be accomplished to teachers and other local specialists who formulate, deliver, and evaluate criteria. The South Dakota Theatre Arts Standards are designed to provide a framework for curriculum, instruction, and assessment practices.

Theatre Arts Glossary

Acting techniques: Specific skills, pedagogies, theories, or methods of investigation used by an actor to prepare for a theatre performance

Authentic: Not false or copied, but genuine, real, honest; worthwhile, significant, meaningful

Believability: Theatrical choices thought to be “true” based upon an understanding of any given fictional moment, interpretation of text, and/or human interaction

Cathartic response: providing psychological relief through the open expression of strong emotions

Character traits: Observable embodied actions that illustrate a character’s personality, values, beliefs, and history

Conflict: The problem, confrontation, or struggle in a scene or play; conflict may include a character against him or herself, a character in opposition to another character, a character against nature, a character against society, or a character against the supernatural

Creative drama: A process-centered, non-exhibitional approach to drama intended to benefit the performers themselves; story drama and process drama are two types of creative drama

Creative processes: The application of production and technical elements (see the definitions) to a theatrical production

Devised drama: Creation of an original performance piece by an ensemble

Dialogue: A conversation between two or more characters

Dramatic play: Make-believe where children naturally assign and accept roles, then act them out

Dramaturgy: The art of research for a particular dramatic work in respect to the social, historic, cultural, and/or religious impact of that work

Focus: Commitment by a participant (an actor, technician, director) to remain in the scope of the project or to stay within the world of the play

Genre: Relating to a specific kind or type of drama and theatre such as a tragedy, drama, melodrama, comedy, or farce

Gesture: An expressive and planned movement of the body or limbs

Given circumstances: The underlying actions and events that have happened before the play, story, or devised piece begins

Guided drama experience: A leader guides participants during a process drama, story drama, or creative drama experience (see the definitions) through side-coaching, narration, and prompting; the action of the drama does not stop in order for the leader to support the students; facilitator may guide participants in or out of role

Improvise: The spontaneous, intuitive, and immediate response of movement and speech; a distinction can be made between spontaneous improvisation, which is immediate and unrehearsed, and prepared improvisation, which is shaped and rehearsed

Imaginary elsewhere: An imagined location which can be historical, fictional, or realistic

Imagined worlds: An imaginary world created collectively by participants in a drama experience

Inner thoughts: The underlying and implied meaning or intentions in the character's dialogue or actions (also known as subtext)

Motivation: Reasons why a character behaves or reacts in a particular way in a scene or play

Non-representational materials: Objects which can be transformed into specific props through the imagination

Objective: A goal or particular need or want that a character has within a scene or play

Physical expression: any form of movement or sounds of the body, limbs, face or voice used to convey a variety of emotions or thoughts that create, support or enhance a character, situation, setting or story

Plot: A narrative as revealed through the action and/or dialogue; traditionally, a plot has the elements of exposition, inciting incident, conflict, rising action, climax, and resolution or falling action

Process drama: A non-linear, episodic, process-centered, improvised form of drama in which teacher and students are in-role exploring and reflecting on an issue, story, theme, problem, or idea in a non-exhibitional format that is intended to benefit the performers themselves

Production elements: Technical elements selected for use in a specific production, including sets, sound, costumes, lights, music, props, and make-up, as well as elements specific to the production such as puppets, masks, special effects, or other story telling devices/concepts

Scripted drama: A piece of writing for the theatre that includes a description of the setting, a list of the characters, the dialogue, and the action of the characters

Script analysis: The study of a script to understand the underlying structure and themes of the play's story, and the motives and objectives of its characters

Staging: Patterns of movement in a scene or play including, for example, stage crosses, entrances, and exits which help to convey meaning

Story drama: Episodic, process-centered, improvised form of drama that uses existing literature as a starting point for drama exploration, the drama explores moments (before, after, or within) that may not exist in the story and is presented in a non-exhibitional format that is intended to benefit the performers themselves

Story elements: Characters, setting, dialogue, and plot that create a story

Style: The use of a specific set of characteristic or distinctive techniques such as realism, expressionism, epic theatre, documentary theatre, or classical drama; style may also refer to the unique artistic choices of a particular playwright, director, or actor

Synthesize: to create a new or original entity by combining parts of elements of other dramatic or artistic works

Tactic: The means by which a character seeks to achieve their objective, the selection of tactics are based on the obstacle presented; in acting and directing a tactic refers to a specific action verb

Technical elements: The elements of spectacle such as sets, sound, costume, lights, music, props, and makeup used to create a unified and meaningful design for a theatrical production

Theatrical conventions: Practices and/or devices that the audience and actors accept in the world of the play even when it is not realistic, such as a narrator, flashback, or an aside

Theme: The aspect of the human condition under investigation in the drama; it can be drawn from unifying topics or questions across content areas

Visual composition: The arrangement of actors and scenery on a stage for a theatrical production, sometimes known as “mise en scène”

Visual Arts

Visual Arts: An Operational Definition

Visual Arts include the traditional fine arts such as drawing, painting, printmaking, photography, and sculpture; media arts including film, graphic communications, animation, and emerging technologies; architectural, environmental, and industrial arts such as urban, interior, product, and landscape design; folk arts; and works of art such as ceramics, fibers, jewelry, works in wood, paper, and other materials.

Overview: South Dakota K-12 Visual Arts Standards

Visual arts are an integral part of the human experience. They are about creating, enjoying, and recognizing art for a lifetime. Visual literacy permits students to become active initiators rather than passive receivers of information. Through the visual arts, students are provided an opportunity to discover, develop, and actualize their unique potential. The visual arts assist students in developing the many facets of multiple intelligences while providing meaningful learning opportunities and the development of critical and creative thinking. As students progress from elementary to high school, the visual arts become an important process of self-expression and provide an opportunity for students to focus on a particular art form along with like-minded peers, giving them a sense of belonging within the school community.

The visual arts have roots in every culture and historical period throughout the world. They reach across stereotypes, religion, socioeconomics, and prejudices allowing everyone to be more globally connected. Visual arts build communities and are fundamental if students are to become informed and contributing members of the world community.

Visual arts provide a basis for problem-solving in all content areas. Creating art teaches that there is more than one solution to the same problem. Art encourages open-ended thinking that develops an environment of questions rather than answers.
